Purchases Put Money in Dealers' Pockets

Direct Jobbers Bill and Donna Durand stock a large supply of ALTRUM supplements at their home warehouse in Superior, Wis. "We grab them off our shelves and we don't think about the cost because it's into our own pockets," said Bill Durand.

Increased income is one major benefit of selling ALTRUM supplements. "We've got more and more people buying supplements," Durand said.

Using ALTRUM Supplements is a Win-Win

The Durands focus their business-building on recruiting new Dealers.

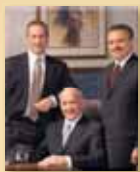

"With our downliners, their health is important to us and we want them to stay healthy and robust because they're part of our financial organization."

While their contribution to the overall organization is important, Durand said, more important is their health and quality of life.

"We take them for health because we want to be alive. I would take ALTRUM supplements no matter the price because they just make a difference."

A.J.'s Prostate Formula Adds to Smart Wellness Plan for Men

"Most men give little thought to the role the prostate gland plays in their bodies. Prostate complications are among the most common health problems affecting men worldwide. In fact, close to 85 percent of men develop some type of prostate problem by the age of 60. This statistic is even more acute in the United States, where 90 percent of men have, or will have, prostate-related problems at some point in their lifetime.

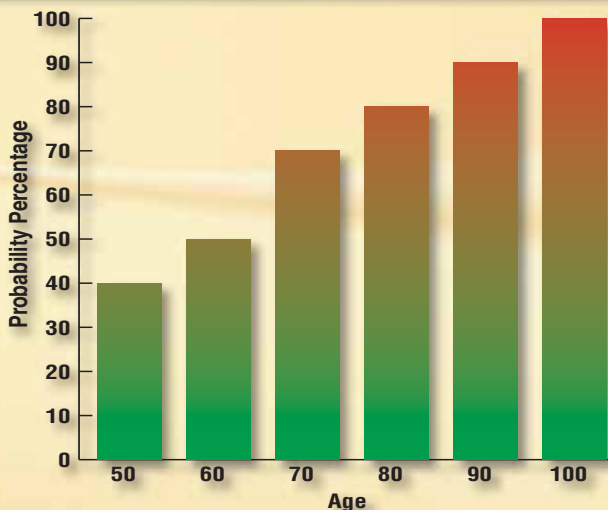

"Men with prostate problems may face surgery, standard radiation, hormone therapy or radioactive seeds – all of which lead to potential sexual, urinary or other problems.

"Vigilant self care with better nutrition and prompt medical attention when necessary are the best defenses for health."*

– Greg Sawyer
ALTRUM manager

Doctors say that 100% of men will eventually experience prostate problems unless they take preventative action!

The most common prostate problem for men over the age of 50 is prostate enlargement, known as benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH.) Some of the annoying symptoms are: frequent urination (especially at night), leaking, urgency and reduced sexual function.

A.J.'s Prostate Formula (DPF) contains 14 powerful nutrients that may nutritionally support prostate function.* Studies reveal nutritional supplements are effective in preventing the onset of BPH. Because they are food, there are no known side effects.*

A.J.'s Prostate Formula is the most complete prostate supplement available. It contains the highest quality natural ingredients that provide important nutritional support for the prostate gland, which is directly involved with male function.*

See page 2 for more information on this product.

Top Nutrients for Good Health

- Saw palmetto is an herbal extract from ripe berries of the saw palmetto tree. Americans have used saw palmetto for more than 200 years as food and to maintain a healthy urogenital system. *

Studies published in the Journal of the American Medical Association found that saw palmetto produces improvements in urine flow in a significant percentage of men. A recent survey indicates more than two million U.S. men use saw palmetto. *

- Pygeum africanum is derived from an African evergreen. It has been used as a nutrient for BPH in Europe since the early 1970s. Studies show it may help support normal size, promote urination and help rid the prostate of cholesterol deposits that can occur with BPH. *

- Stinging nettle root studies indicate nettle root helps balance enlarged prostate (BHP) for normal/ useful prostate size, ease and comfort; and even greater results when combined with pygeum. The best results to normalize prostate size often combine these two herbs with saw palmetto. *

- Vitamin B6 is crucial for a healthy immune system and essential for zinc metabolism. *

- Lycopene is a potent antioxidant. The largest, most comprehensive study evaluating prostate health and lycopene revealed men with more lycopene in their diets displayed potentially better prostate health. *

- San-Qi ginseng is an adaptogen that may support the nervous and circulatory systems and promote blood flow. *

- Pumpkin seed powder contains essential fatty acids needed for proper immune and prostate function, as well as being a good source of zinc, potassium and magnesium. *

- L-glycine, L-glutamic acid and L-lysine are amino acids that nutritionally support the prostate and may help reduce nightly urination. *

- Zinc is so vital to healthy male function it has been called the "male mineral." No other gland or organ in the body has as much zinc as the prostate. Therapeutic doses have been shown to bring prompt improvement in BPH. Zinc should be taken with vitamin B6 for maximum effectiveness. *

- Vitamin E and selenium may enhance protection of prostate health. *

A.J.'s Prostate Formula – For Complete Male Support

A.J.'s Prostate Formula supplies vital nutrients that support healthy, normal function that may help:

- Reduce the number of nightly trips to the bathroom ***
- Promote normal, comfortable urination
- Balance (BPH), renewing ease and comfort ***
- Enhance male function ***

Feel the full benefits in six to eight weeks of daily use.

ALTRUM Dealers – Make Sure to Test Your Websites

Online sales of ALTRUM products is one of the best ways Dealers earn income and commission credits, so it's vital Dealers provide accurate links from their websites to the ALTRUM website.

Using the correct computer code on the links to www.altrumonline.com, and its pages, is the only way Dealers can be sure to receive credit for their customers' orders.

Dealers using an outdated linking code do not receive credit for their customer's orders.

Dealers will benefit by periodically checking to make sure the links they provide from their websites to AMSOIL, ALTRUM and AGGRAND are correct.

Last year's links no longer work from Dealers' websites and Dealers should update the links they provide immediately to make sure they are receiving credit when their customers order ALTRUM products.

The link Dealers need to provide on their own websites must contain their ZO number in order to receive credit for customers' orders.

INCORRECT (Past) LINK:

<http://www.altrumonline.com/redirect.cgi?zo=XXXXXXX&page=store>
(where XXXXXX = Dealer's ZO)

CORRECT LINK:

<http://www.altrumonline.com/catalog.aspx?zo=XXXXXXX>
(where XXXXXX = your ZO)

Comparison of the two links shows “/redirect.cgi?” is the portion of the link that is not valid. The correct link now goes directly to the specific corporate catalog “/catalog.aspx?”

With the correct linking code, Dealers can link to any page on the ALTRUM website and their ZO transfers to AMSOIL INC. as the referring Dealer.

The correct linking code can be found in the AMSOIL INC. Dealer Zone by clicking in the “Services” tab, “Dealer Websites,” then click on “Link your site.” Here Dealers find the specific linking code for each of the corporate websites to assure they receive credit for their customers' purchases. Dealers can check to make sure their links are sending customers to the website by clicking on the link on their websites and looking at the address when they arrive at www.altrumonline.com. If the link is correct, the page should contain the Dealer's ZO number in the page address.
